COPD Update
Half-day practical workshop

Support your patients, improve your knowledge
This workshop is designed for healthcare professionals who have undertaken some formal COPD education, and will provide an update of new and emerging evidence in relation to the management of COPD.

Led by practising clinicians, this workshop focuses on the most up-to-date evidence and treatment options for supporting and treating patients with COPD, considering the new and emerging guidelines in the management of patients with this condition e.g. the new NICE Quality Standard for COPD¹.

This workshop will provide an opportunity for discussion around current strategy and best practice and will promote learning through peer support with an emphasis on practical advice and tips.

You will learn to . . .
• Apply the latest evidence to practice in COPD
• Recognise and manage exacerbations
• Tailor treatment for COPD – not lung function
• Be aware of newer treatment options for people with COPD
• Understand the importance of getting the right diagnosis
• Consider the impact of national/international guidelines on the management of COPD in the UK
