Roy Lilley, The Academy of Fabulous Stuff  @RoyLilley @FabNHSStuff

A businessman with over 40 years’ experience, Roy is now an established independent health policy analyst, writer, broadcaster and commentator on health and social issues.

Roy’s longstanding involvement in healthcare includes being a founder member of the NHS Trust Federation, vice-chairman of West Surrey and North East Hampshire Health Authority, and Chairman of the Homewood NHS Trust. He has been a member of the NHS Steering Group on women’s issues and a member of the NHS Training Executive’s Group on training Boards and Non-Executive Directors.

In 2015 Roy founded the Academy of Fabulous Stuff – a non-profit organisation dedicated to sharing all the fabulous things about the NHS. The Academy works as a collaboration to ensure best practice examples, great ideas and service solutions are available to all.

Dr Chris Turner, Emergency Medicine Consultant, University Hospitals Coventry and Warwickshire/Civility Saves Lives @orangedis @civilitysaves

Chris trained in Edinburgh, graduating in 1992. He took a circuitous route to his chosen specialty of Emergency Medicine, including 2 years as a psychiatric trainee and 3 years in North Queensland.

Eventually he found himself in what, to him, was the deep south (the West Midlands) where he became embroiled in the Mid Staffs Scandal, an experience that both made and broke him. He has been a governance lead for 10 years and is a passionate believer in evidence-based improvements and trusting in professionalism.

Miss Tania Cubison Lt Col RAMC Consultant Burns and Reconstructive Surgeon, Queen Victoria Hospital

Tania is one of a small number of female plastic surgeons in the South East of England. Her specialist interest is in burn care, scar revision and trauma reconstruction.

Tania is actively involved in the training of the next generation of plastic surgeons, being a member of the national Specialist Advisory Committee (SAC) for Plastic Surgery Training. She is the SAC representative on the Training Interface Group in Major Trauma, working to train a multi-disciplinary group of consultants who will lead Trauma Care into the future.

Having had two children whilst in surgical training, she is very aware of the issues that female surgeons face, and is currently the member of the SAC responsible for less than full-time trainees in plastic surgery nationally.

Cara Charles-Barks – Chief Executive, Salisbury NHS FT  @CaraCBCEO

Cara has a wide range of clinical and management experience in both the NHS and Australian healthcare systems.

She qualified as a registered nurse in Australia in 1991 and, having worked in London for three years, moved back to Australia where she became a nurse consultant, then clinical practice manager and subsequently Nursing Director. She was then Deputy Chief Operating Officer in Peterborough in the UK and, before coming to Salisbury, she was Deputy Chief Executive Officer and Chief Operating Officer at Hinchingbrooke Health Care NHS Trust.
Keynote Panel

Pauline Brown - Dean and Director of Education and Quality, Health Education England, South

Pauline trained as a nurse in Leeds, has a Masters in Nursing, and is a qualified teacher. Her career spanning over 40 years in the NHS has included very senior roles in clinical practice, governance, management and education in London teaching hospitals.

She joined Health Education England in June 2014 and has recently taken on the role of Dean and Director of Education and Quality for the South. The role includes the HEE national lead for safety. Pauline is an advocate of multi professional education and training that supports the development of new roles and workforce transformation. Her interests include shared governance, patient safety, and nursing leadership.

Dr Susan Hayward - Wessex Anaesthetics Trainee, Royal Bournemouth & Christchurch Hospitals NHS FT and Poole Hospitals NHS FT @CRsalisbury

Susan is a currently training to be an anaesthetist on the HEE Wessex training programme. She was a HEE Wessex QI Fellow in 2014/15.

Susan has just completed a year as Royal College of Physicians Chief Registrar at Salisbury NHS FT. As chief registrar she had non-clinical time and leadership training alongside her anaesthetic training to support improving junior doctors working lives in areas such as QI, wellbeing, education and training and workforce planning.

Dr Matt Inada-Kim - Consultant Acute Physician and Sepsis Lead, Hampshire Hospitals NHS FT @mattinadakim

An Acute Medicine consultant and patient/carer who has used and worked for the NHS for the whole of his life, Matt is also Clinical Lead for Sepsis and Deterioration for the Wessex Patient Safety Collaborative and National Clinical Advisor on Sepsis and Deterioration.

Matt has had a career long interest in sepsis and works to support improving the awareness, recognition and treatment of patients with this condition.

He was a Harkness Fellow at the Commonwealth Fund and has travelled and studied other countries health systems and come away with the strong belief that the NHS is the best and fairest healthcare system in the world. Every day he sees incredible examples of what NHS staff do for patients and the difference they make, strengthening his resolve to help make the system as a whole more effective, more efficient and as safe as possible.

Marie Lindsay-Sutherland - Lead Advanced Neonatal Nurse Practitioner, Poole NHS FT @marielouisels

Marie is a registered nurse and midwife with a special interest in caring for neonates born to women with mental health problems. She has been in her current role since 2013.

Having already completed a postgraduate programme in neonatal studies and one in advanced clinical practice, Mare is currently completing a Doctorate in Advanced Clinical Practice. She is also a Health Foundation Q and facilitates and supports improvement work in her local maternity and neonatal unit.

Marie has been involved in the Avoiding Term Admissions to the Neonatal Unit (ATAIN) project early in 2017 and joined an established team to represent neonatal interests and act as a Lead for the introduction of a thermoregulation package as part of wave 1 of the national Maternity and Neonatal Collaborative Quality Improvement Programme.
Dr Sara Blakeley, Consultant in Critical Care, Portsmouth Hospitals NHS Trust

A consultant on the Intensive Care Unit (ICU) at Queen Alexandra Hospital in Portsmouth since 2007, Sara’s main interest on the ICU is in the field of Critical Care Nephrology. She is the medical lead for the hospitals Tracheostomy Support Team and works closely with the Critical Care Outreach team.

She is particularly interested in trying to improve the recognition and response to the deteriorating patient. This has led to her being the clinical lead for a quality improvement project called Time to ACT which has been rolled out across Portsmouth Hospitals NHS Trust.

Nicola Sayer - Resuscitation Manager, Portsmouth Hospitals NHS Trust

Nicola is a Registered General Nurse who has worked for 33 years in the NHS, initially in Accident & Emergency nursing for nine years, and since 1998 in the Resuscitation Department at Portsmouth Hospitals NHS Trust becoming the Resuscitation Manager in 2005.

Her interest is in education and patient safety and she is passionate about putting the patient at the centre of all we do. She now leads the teams that deliver education in resuscitation, deteriorating patients, simulation and clinical skills. Nicola was co-project manager for the Wessex PSC Breakthrough Series 2 and latterly for the Wessex ScaleUp4Safety pilot. The quality improvement project is called Time to ACT which has introduced a Deteriorating Patient pro forma to all adult in-patient wards in Portsmouth Hospitals NHS Trust.

Poster Award Presenters

Dave Meehan, Deputy CEO and Director for Partnerships, Wessex Academic Health Science Network

Dave has been with the AHSN since it was formed in 2013 and has worked in the Wessex NHS environment for over 40 years, holding board positions in Primary Care Trusts and Provider organisations for the last 20 years.

Dave is a fellow of the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants and proudly holds a Football League Coaching Licence, demonstrating a passion for football, as well as all sports, and a desire to coach the very best out of every individual.

Ruth Monger, Local Director, Health Education England, Wessex and Thames Valley

Ruth joined the NHS as an Occupational Therapist in 1986 and worked in older peoples care, and mental health services. She moved into management, via the general management training scheme for clinical staff, in the 1990s and subsequently managed mental health and learning disability services for both adults and children.

In 2002 Ruth was the workforce redesign lead at Central South Coast Cancer network, a joint appointment with Hampshire and Isle of Wight workforce development confederation, later moving to be Head of Workforce Planning in South Central in 2009, which then became Health Education Wessex in 2013.
Conference Senior Sponsors

Dr Fleur Kitsell, Associate Director of Workforce Transformation, Health Education England, Wessex

Fleur’s role includes a remit for research, innovation and improvement. She leads various multi-professional initiatives across Wessex and nationally, including the RCEM Advanced Practice programme for Nurses and Paramedics in Emergency Care, the Improving Global Health through Leadership Development Programme, and she is also Head of the HEE Wessex School of Quality Improvement.

Fleur is a Physiotherapist and worked in the Higher Education sector for many years

Professor Jane Reid, Clinical Lead, Wessex Patient Safety Collaborative

Jane has enjoyed a career of nursing posts in acute care, and Higher Education. Roles within recent years have included President of the Association for Perioperative Practice, Associate Dean (Nursing and Allied Health Professions) at Bournemouth University and Nurse Advisor to the National Patient Safety Agency. Jane has also played a key leadership role in the national patient safety campaigns Patient Safety First and Sign up to Safety.

Jane is currently a Non-Executive Director with Salisbury Hospital NHS Foundation Trust and also operates as an independent advisor in support of NHSI, in the field of Never Event investigation/safety improvement.

Conference Leads

Siobhan O'Donnell, Associate Workforce Transformation Lead, Health Education England, Wessex

Siobhan works to champion, further develop, and support the delivery of quality improvement education and initiatives as part of the HEE Wessex School of Quality Improvement. Her academic background includes a degree in law and Master’s degree in Criminal Justice. She worked with the Wessex Patient Safety Collaborative to co-project manage the establishment of the Community of Safety and Improvement Practice (CSIP) in 2015 and oversees the delivery of this annual conference.

Tracy Broom RGN MSc, Associate Director, Wessex Patient Safety Collaborative & Q

Tracy has over 30 years’ experience in the NHS working within both the acute and primary care sectors; this includes positions as Emergency Department Senior Nurse and PCT Assistant Director.

Most recently she has worked with NHSE Wessex and Wessex Academic Health Science Network. Her present role focuses on supporting staff and improvement teams across Wessex to reduce avoidable harm using Quality Improvement: Connecting and sharing across Wessex to improve patient safety.

Sarah Warner, Business Support Administrator, Health Education England, Wessex

Sarah joined Health Education England, Wessex in 2015 and provides business support to the Workforce Transformation Team.

Prior to this Sarah worked for the Hampshire Probation Trust for 18 years where she obtained numerous secretarial qualifications including her Executive Secretary’s Diploma.