SPECIALTY TRAINING PROGRAMME IN OPHTHALMOLOGY IN WESSEX DEANERY

This is a 7 year training programme in Ophthalmology for which 4 posts are available at ST1 level, starting August 2014. The programme is aimed at doctors who can demonstrate the essential competences to enter this level of training, and is designed to support training for a CCT in Ophthalmology. Details of essential competencies and qualifications are given in the MMC person specification. Ophthalmology is a run-through specialty and the nationally agreed person specification is available from http://www.mmc.nhs.uk/pdf/PS%202013%20ST1%20Ophthalmology2.pdf which can be found on the NHS Specialty training website - www.mmc.nhs.uk.

It is anticipated that completion of this training programme, subject to satisfactory outcome of the Annual Review of Competence Progression (ARCP), will lead to a Certificate of Completion of Training (CCT) or Certificate of Eligibility for Specialist Registration (Combined Programme) (CESR (CP)) in Ophthalmology.

Health Education Wessex is authorized to act on behalf of the following NHS organizations (see table) that offer training posts as part of an approved junior doctor medical education and training programme. It is not authorized to enter into employment contracts with doctors in training on behalf of those employers. No fees are required from the employing organizations or from those seeking a training post for the work-finding service. The programme is based in hospitals in Hampshire, Dorset, Isle of Wight and Salisbury including:

Please note that applications are to the Health Education Wessex as a whole. This may mean that you could be allocated to any geographic location within Wessex depending on training needs.

Health Education Wessex is responsible for the planning, development, education and training of the healthcare and public health workforce across Hampshire, Dorset, Isle of Wight and Salisbury. We also provide medical training for the States of Jersey and GP appraisal services for Jersey and Guernsey. We believe that the key to improving the health and healthcare of the 2.8 million people living in Wessex is investment in the skills and values of the 52,000 people working in the NHS and in primary care.

Within the field of postgraduate medical education and training, we manage across primary and secondary care for these health communities – totalling around 2,400 doctors in training at any one time across 12 Trusts and 160 GP practices. In addition, we support the workforce development for GP Practice Nurses and Public Health practitioners as well managing a bespoke GP appraisal service for established GP Practitioners to meet the requirements for revalidation in accordance with the statutory requirements set by the General Medical Council.

We manage training programmes for postgraduate medical training according to the statutory standards set by the General Medical Council (GMC) and have responsibility for establishing and maintaining quality management systems for all posts and programmes as required by the GMC.

The work of the Deanery is guided by the principles embedded within the NHS constitution.

Rotation Information

Trainees work with the Consultants and staff of the Units involved, each of which has a Royal College of Ophthalmologists’ Tutor responsible for the local programme. The training programme rotation will be based on the following guidelines, but there may be some individual variation from this depending on existing staffing levels.

The first part of the Training Programme (Years 1 and 2)

- Trainees will usually be posted for a year at a time to either a district general hospital or a teaching hospital.

The second part of the Training Programme (Years 3-7)

- The last 2 to 2½ years will normally be spent in either Southampton and/or Portsmouth.
- At least one of the last 2 to 2½ years will usually be spent at Southampton.

The Specialty Training Committee (STC), in conjunction with the Postgraduate Dean, will be responsible for the supervision and structure of the programme. Any variation must be approved by the STC in advance.

Study and Training

The primary aim of all posts is the acquisition of the knowledge and skills needed to complete training as an ophthalmologist according to the curriculum laid down by the Royal College of Ophthalmologists, which sets out minimum standards of education agreed by all Trusts within the rotation.
Health Education Wessex is committed to developing postgraduate training programmes as laid down by GMC, Colleges and Faculties and by COPMED - the Postgraduate Deans Network. At local level college/specialty tutors work with the Programme Director and Directors of Medical Education in supervising these programmes. Trainees will be expected to take part in these programmes (including audit) and to attend meetings with their nominated educational supervisor.

All posts within the training programme are recognised for postgraduate training by the General Medical Council (GMC) in accordance with their standards for training.

All posts have a service element and the following covers the majority of duties. There will be minor variations in different hospitals but the list is aimed at covering the majority of duties:

1. Supervise, monitor and assist more junior trainees and colleagues in the day to day management of any in-patients, ward referrals and emergency referrals.
2. Liaise between nurses, Doctors, patients, relatives and senior medical staff.
3. Attend and participate in ward rounds as timetabled
4. Attend outpatient clinics.
5. Take part in rostered emergency work.
6. Dictate discharge summaries, clinic letters, and complete electronic patient records.
7. Study for higher examination and maintain continued professional development.
8. Attend weekly educational and multidisciplinary sessions.
9. Undertake audit at various times throughout the rotations.
10. Teach medical students as directed.
11. Co-operate with members of the personnel department when monitoring hours of work and other personnel issues.
12. Attend induction in each hospital or new department
13. Comply with all local policies including dress code, annual and study leave
Other Features

There are full opportunities for personal research and towards the end of training the Specialist Trainee will be expected to be responsible for the smooth running of the junior timetable and will attend the Directorate Management meetings. The post is principally based at the main ophthalmology unit or department for each hospital, although visits for consultation or occasional clinics elsewhere may be required.
